

International Research in Medical and Health Sciences [IRMHS] Strict Rules Against Plagiarism

International Research in Medical and Health Sciences [IRMHS] is extremely strict in matters of Plagiarism. IRMHS will not accept plagiarized articles for publication. If the journal finds a submitted plagiarized article, then it may ban all the authors responsible for the article in publishing with it. So, all the authors/researchers are requested to check their respective articles for plagiarism before submitting for publishing.

All received manuscripts will be vigorously checked for plagiarism. We use software for detection of plagiarism before forwarding the manuscripts for peer review process.